

Please do not change your rule on Broadcast Ownership. We already have far too much concentration of ownership in the media. We need more different points of view and more local insight and news. The public interest is much better served by many smaller media outlets than by a handful of mega-corporations.